1. A sample of material was obtained at the laboratory located at 101 Strada Toamnei, in Bucharest, Rumania.¹
2. Laboratory examination of this material revealed the presence of a strain of Streptomyces producing an antibiotic with the characteristics of aureomycin.

1. Comment: This sample was so handled as to preclude the possibility of its contamination after leaving its place of origin. Results of analysis thus presumably reflect conditions at the laboratory accurately, although possibly incompletely.
